

Chaske Spencer, a Native American actor

Chaske Spencer sat down to chat with Teens'Life. In his great interview, Chaske spoke about his childhood and his success today as a Native American actor.

When did you start acting?

In 1996, when I was 21. I moved to New York and I fought to get a job. Finally, I started working as an actor.

5 You said you moved to New York. Where were you born and where did you grow up?

I was born in Oklahoma in 1975 and I grew up on reservations in Montana and Idaho.

What did your parents do?

10 My parents were teachers and taught on Indian reservations.

What was your first film?

I got my first role in a movie called Skins in 2002.

Did you like it?

15 Yes, I did. I really liked the actors and the story.

What other films did you star in?

My latest film was Woman Walks Ahead in 2017. And of course, I also played Sam Uley, the leader of the werewolf pack in the Twilight movie series from 2009 to 2012.

How did you get the role in the Twilight Saga?

I auditioned for it and I got it.

How did you react then? Were you surprised?

20 Yes, I was. I couldn't believe it! I was so excited.
25 This experience really changed my life.
